Dear Editor

Metiskow, Alta.

Dear Editor,

Good morning Jill. When I read in your paper the article (see PN September 11, 2024) on people not showing up for their appointments at the medical centre I thought "how inconsiderate."

Yesterday I needed to cancel an appointment. My thought was to phone the evening before so the girls answering and making appointments would know the appointment was available for someone else in the morning. I did not realize it is impossible to cancel an appointment after 5 p.m. until 9 a.m. in the morning.

My question is "Why is there not a number you can call after 5 p.m. and before 9 a.m. a cancellation line and number?"

Anyone who is work-requires it. Cell phones do not work in many areas, that leaves someone working no chance of calling in. If you are working and your job requires you to be there, you will have no chance of cancelling your appointment. Ranchers and farmers are in the same boat; if you are an urban resident, no excuse if your memory is not as sharp as it used to be, tape a message to yourself on the outside of the cupboard door where you keep your morning coffee.

Who ever makes decisions concerning the Medical Centre, carefully consider setting up a cancellation line, it is the reasonable thing to do. It would help with missed appointments, good for our doctors
